Important and required training for mining and those who service the mining industry.

The training taught in this course is required for anyone in traditional mining operations (developing, drilling, blasting, milling, extracting, etc.) as well as maintenance and service workers who are regularly exposed to mining operations. Construction workers who are exposed to the hazards of mining operations on a regular basis are also required to take this federally mandated training. CBI will develop a customized version of this education and training for area businesses and deliver it onsite for their employees.

This course is designed to meet the federal training requirements of 30 CFR (MSHA) parts 46 and 48.

Cancellations or transfers will be accepted no less than 3 business days prior to first date of class.
